

Special Olympics Vermont Young Athletes program introduces young children with intellectual disabilities and their families to the world of Special Olympics.

Young Athletes Program

- is an innovative sports play program for children ages 2 -7
- is a series of developmentally appropriate activities designed specifically for young children and their family members
- seeks to strengthen physical development and self-esteem for children by building skills for future sports participation and socialization prior to Special Olympics competition eligibility

Special Olympics Vermont has partnered with Northwestern Medical Center to offer this unique program to children ages 2 – 7 in the Franklin/Grand Isle Counties. Northwestern Medical Center professionals will lead the class in age appropriate play activities. Parents will participate with their child in each week’s activities and can simulate the activities learned during the class at home.
